YOUR SYSTEM, STEP BY STEP

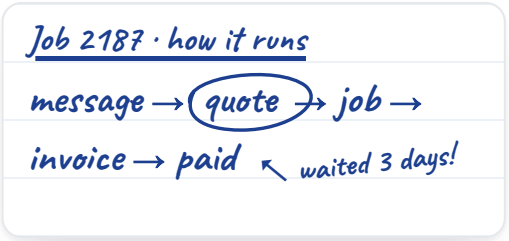

Five steps out of the group chat, the whiteboard and someone's memory. Do one step a week. Paper is fine to start.

1 MAP ONE JOB

One real job, from the first message to the money in the bank.

- [ ] Pick one job from last week and list every step, in order.
- [ ] Next to each step: who did it, and where it was written.
- [ ] Circle where it waited, got lost or was typed twice.

Done when someone new could run that job from your page.

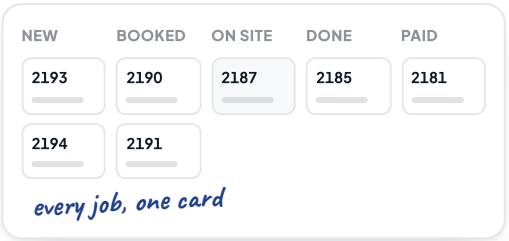

2 ONE BOARD

Every job in one place, not in a chat or on a wall.

- [ ] Five columns: New, Booked, On site, Done, Paid.
- [ ] One card per job: customer, address, job, who, when.
- [ ] House rule: if it isn't on the board, it isn't a job.

Done when you know what's on today without scrolling the chat.

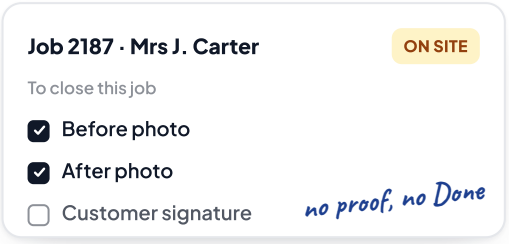

3 ON THEIR PHONES

Your team works from the board, on their phones.

- [ ] Each person sees their own jobs for today.
- [ ] Agree what closes a job: photos, a note, a signature.
- [ ] A job only moves to Done when that's on the card.

Done when you never chase anyone for a photo again.

4 INVOICE FROM THE JOB

When the job is done, the invoice starts from its card.

- [ ] Write your price list: your top ten items and your rates.
- [ ] Build the invoice from the card: parts, hours, notes.
- [ ] Send it the same day the job is done.

Done when nothing is typed twice.

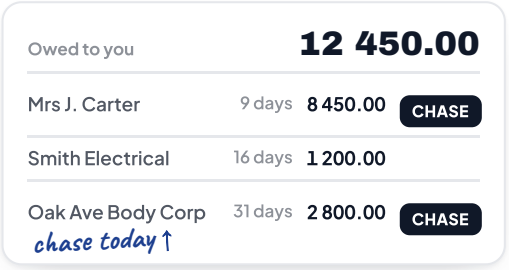

5 ONE MONEY SCREEN

Who owes you, and who to chase today, on one screen.

- [ ] List every unpaid invoice with its days overdue.
- [ ] Pick one chase rule: remind at 7, 14 and 30 days.
- [ ] Check it for ten minutes every Friday.

Done when you know what you're owed without asking anyone.

THAT'S THE WHOLE SYSTEM.

Run it on paper first. When you want it as one simple app, built around how you already work, that's what we build.

Andrew, Flowrate

BOOK A FREE CALL →